We remember the babies born sleeping, those we carried but never held, those we held but could not take home, and those who came home but could not stay. (Unknown)

The Fetal and Infant Mortality Review (FIMR)

Research Study Team offers our deepest sympathies for your loss.

We want you to know that we are here for you. We know this is hard, but we are hoping to talk to you.

FIMR talks to families who have had an infant or pregnancy loss. We want to better understand how having or not having resources before, during or after a family's loss have affected them.

Talking to you will help us learn how we can better support the families and communities of Chicago.

We know that this is hard to talk about, but we are here and ready to listen when you are ready to share your story.

The Benefits of This Research Study

Our study team wants to learn about the needs of Chicago families and communities by hearing stories of loss. This study will:

- Give families a chance to share their story in their own words.
- Create supports and resources needed in the hope of preventing future losses
- Provide families counseling support services and other resources
- Help neighborhoods decide what can make a difference
- Families who participate receive a gift card

To Take Part and for More Information

To take part in this study you must:

- Have a pregnancy loss at more than 20 weeks or the loss of an Infant
- Live in Chicago
